Fig. 1.

Symbiosis of the different subjects such as ethnography and philately has certainly passed the test in this display. Obviously such a forms of cooperation are not restricted only to those fields. This opens a broad scope of potential possibilities for philately. The saying that "Postage Stamps teach, educate and entertain" once again proves true.

The Museum Director, Prof.Dr Marian Pokropek is to be highly commended for his initiative and congratulated for his achievement.

Should some reader have the opportunity of visiting the Exhibition, here is the address:
